Subject: Donlin EIS: Travel windows for February

Friends,

We faced some weather challenges this week as we tried to conduct the Lower Kuskokwim River village meetings. We were prevented by blizzard conditions from getting to Quinhagak and Kipnuk. We were able to get to Nunapitchuk and Akiak, through the travel conditions made the meetings seem a bit rushed.

We are ready to propose two trips during the month of February. We are adapting our original plan, partly because it is difficult to make four meetings in a week for the Bering Sea and Lower Yukon villages without exorbitant charter costs. So, here are the ideas for February:

9/13/2018

February 15-16 McGrath

This is based on the scheduled PenAir flights on M W F Sa. So Friday – Saturday combination with two consecutive days.

February 24 – 28: Quinhagak (or Kipnuk) Toksook Bay, and Hooper Bay – return to Anchorage

The trip to Quinhagak (or Kipnuk) would be a day-trip from Bethel, making up for the trip missed due to weather on January 28. The trips to Toksook Bay and Hooper Bay would involve overnight stays in the villages.

As we confirm arrangements, we will provide detailed itineraries. It would be helpful if the agencies could identify their representatives likely to travel for these two trips.
